

LOIS J. ARNOLD ACCEPTS OFFER FROM DANVILLE

WILL BE EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT OF FIRST NATIONAL BANK

After thirty-two years with the First-Citizens Bank & Trust Company, L. J. Arnold tendered his resignation to the Board of Directors in a special meeting Thursday afternoon, to accept the office of Executive Vice President of the First National Bank in Danville, one of the progressive banks of Hendricks county, effective June 11th.

In commenting to the press, J. B. Crosby, President of the First-Citizens Bank & Trust Company stated "Lois's personal friendship, his splendid bank record and service to our community can hardly be duplicated by any one in another thirty-two years."

Mr. Arnold's continuous association with the First-Citizens dates back to his graduation from Central Business College which followed his education in the Fillmore schools. Through this progressive period for the First-Citizens, Mr. Arnold deservingly made his way from bookkeeper to vice president and trust officer, the position he has so ably held since 1941.

Not only in the execution of his bank duties, but through his activity in civic and community affairs, Mr. Arnold made countless friends for to know him even slightly, is to be his friend. Many local organizations have profited by his active affiliation. He is Elder in the First Christian church, past president of Rotary, a Scottish Rite Mason, past president of the Greencastle Chamber of Commerce during two periods, active in Boy Scouts, and has devoted much time and effort to the agricultural program of Putnam county. Because of his very special love for children, and particularly his concern for the underprivileged ones, Mr. Arnold is serving his sixteenth year as a Trustee of The Allison Home. This phase of community service may well be his most rewarding, for, influenced by his guidance and wise counsel, many unfortunate boys and girls have found their rightful place in a happy and useful society.

Mrs. Arnold, the former Mae Mullins, is equally as popular and community spirited as her husband. Reared and educated in Greencastle, she never misses an opportunity to aid in any matter for the betterment of her community and family life. The Arnolds have three children, Mrs. Roy Noblitt of Indianapolis; Judy, a senior in Greencastle High School, and Jerry, a sophomore.

We heartily congratulate Mr. Arnold on his new position and wish him and his family every happiness and success in Danville. In this period of constant change and progress many families will come and go from our community, but none will leave more real friends or a more creditable contribution than the Arnold family.

STEEL STRIKE UNLIKELY

CLEVELAND, Ohio, May 14—(UP)—Steel Magazine said today that the chances are 3-2 against a steel strike unless the union stands pat on its demands for premium weekend pay.

The magazine said the premium pay could be a strike issue as far as the companies are concerned. The cost of the premium pay amounts to 55 cents an hour for continuous jobs. The magazine said a compromise might be reached by agreement on higher shift differentials.

Like Pronounced Physically Fit

GETTYSBURG, Pa., May 14—(UP)—President Eisenhower files back to Washington in his little Aero Commander plane today, weather permitting.

If the weather is too bad for the two-engine plane, Mr. Eisenhower will drive back to the White House. The trip by plane only takes about a half hour.

Mr. Eisenhower, chipper and cheerful after a highly encouraging medical checkup, flew to his farm here Sunday for a combination birthday-Mother's Day celebration.

The Chief Executive was accompanied by his brother, Dr. Milton Eisenhower, and a secret service agent when he stepped out of the plane at Gettysburg. Tucked under his arm were two brightly-wrapped packages, presumably containing gifts for Mrs. Eisenhower's mother, Mrs. John S. Doud, who observed her 77th birthday Sunday.

The White House released a report on Mr. Eisenhower's health after he ended a two-day check up at Walter Reed Hospital in Washington last Saturday. It pronounced the President in "good" overall health with "no symptoms" of heart weakness.

The report said Mr. Eisenhower "is physically active and mentally alert." It said "the heart sounds were good" and Mr. Eisenhower's blood pressure was 118-80—a healthy level. The doctors found "no evidence of hardening of the arteries and the 'tone' of blood circulation was 'good'."

FIVE DIE IN PLANE CRASH NEAR AIRPORT

TERRIBLE TRAGEDY OCCURRED SATURDAY EVENING ABOUT 7:30

The worst accident tragedy that has ever occurred in Putnam county took the lives of five persons, two of them former Putnam county residents about 7:30 o'clock Saturday evening, when an airplane piloted by Eugene Jones, 40, of Hammond, crashed on the Thomas farm north-east of the airport, killing all five occupants instantly.

Accompanying Mr. Jones, who was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Jones of Cloverdale, were his wife and sister, Mrs. John Davis, also of Hammond, Mr. Davis and their six year old daughter, Aurela Mae. The party was enroute to the Greencastle airport where Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Jones were waiting to take them to Cloverdale for Mother's Day. Apparently Mr. Jones was traveling too fast when he reached the airport and in making a circle to land, the motor of the plane stalled and the craft plummeted to the ground, some few hundred feet. It burst into flames immediately and all occupants were burned beyond recognition.

The city ambulances and the fire department were called to the scene of the accident, but here was nothing that could be done for the occupants of the plane. Mr. Jones who was at the airport realized the plane had crashed and he hurried to the scene, by going a half mile east and a mile north to the Thomas farm which is immediately south of the Brackney farm.

Within a few minutes word was spread in Greencastle of the crash and hundreds of motorists drove to the scene of the crash. Cars were parked for at least a mile on the north and south road.

About all that was left of the plane was a portion of the tail and one wing. They were made of metal and could not burn. The bodies of all five occupants were forced into the front cockpit of the plane during the fire.

Mr. Jones was president of the Indiana Mobile Homes Association and was head of the Hoosier Mobile Homes Co., of Hammond, where he had resided for the past several years. Mr. Davis, a brother-in-law, was also associated with the Hoosier Mobile Homes Company.

All five victims of the wreck will be buried at Cloverdale with services from the Whitaker Funeral Home at two o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Survivors of Eugene Jones and Mrs. Davis are; their parents, two sisters, Mrs. Helen Everett, Winslow, Arizona and Mrs. Patricia Thompson of Cincinnati; two brothers, Morris, Riverside California, and Raymond of Indianapolis. Survivors of Mrs. Eugene Jones are: one brother, James Kempf, of Terre Haute (three sisters, Mrs. Grace Laughler, Mrs. Kathryn Moyer and Mrs. Mayme Baxter all of Terre Haute. Mr. Davis is survived by his parents, three brothers, James, Joseph and Earl; three sisters, Mrs. Agnes Babcock, Alna Davis, and Mrs. Alice Merritt.

Nebraska Will Hold Primary

OMAHA, May 14—President Eisenhower and Sen. Estes Kefauver are matched in their second corn belt "popularity contest" within a week in Tuesday's Nebraska presidential primary.

The President and the Tennessee Democrat are opposed on the Republican and Democratic ballots. Democrats hope to roll up some form of a farm protest vote in staunchly Republican Nebraska, but add that farmers will probably wait until November to express their sentiments.

The Nebraska primary comes one week after Indiana farmers gave the president a vote of confidence over Kefauver in the Hoosier primary.

Despite the presidential clash the Nebraska primary campaign has been one of the quietest in years.

10 Dead After Weekend Storms

The debris of a tornado barrage covered parts of a six-state area today.

At least 10 persons were reported dead in the wake of the week-end weather fury and scores more were injured. Property damage ran into the millions of dollars.

Weather officials said a cold front racing across the Midwest apparently was chasing out the threat of more twisters today and dropping temperatures. But the East baked in a muggy heat wave.

The tornado onslaught began on Saturday night, killing six persons on the outskirts of Cleveland, Ohio, three in Flint, Mich., and one at Itasca, Mich. The Red Cross reported a total of 17 deaths, including two more in Michigan, but authorities said these could not be confirmed.

More tornadoes hit Pennsylvania causing heavy damage, and near Omaha, Neb., Saturday night and early Sunday. The twisters returned Sunday slaughtering through farm areas in Kansas and Missouri.

The suburban west side of Cleveland felt the twister's most lethal fury. Three persons were killed when a tavern collapsed, two more were electrocuted by live wires from fallen utility poles, and one was crushed to death by a falling tree in his car.

In Michigan, tornadoes touched down at least 12 times and concentrated their fury on Flint, where a twister killed 115 persons three years ago.

Mr. Masters opened the jack of diamonds and dummy's king won. Mrs. Keen figured the lead was from a suit headed by jack-10 and saw no reason at this stage to discourage continuation of the suit. Therefore she followed suit with the eight spot. At trick two Mr. Meek led the nine of hearts from the board and ducked it losing to the king. A CLEAR IDEA At this point, after the play of only two tricks, Mr. Masters had a clear idea as to his chances of defeating the contract. For one thing, if Mr. Meek had the king of clubs, he had no problems, and it would almost surely be impossible to beat him. Future defense, then, had to be based on the hope that Mrs. Keen held that card. Next, it seemed certain that Mrs. Keen did not have a singleton spade because if she had been able to ruff a second round of spades she would have played her lowest diamond at trick one in an effort to encourage her partner to shift when he next gained the lead. Apparently the defenders could win one heart, one club (if Mrs. Keen had the king) and therefore two spade tricks would have to be garnered. If Mr. Meek did not have as many as three spades, again the contract would be unbeatable. On this reasoning, Mr. Masters made a beautiful and daring lead at trick three. He laid down the queen of spades. Dummy's king won and Mr. Meek then picked up the remaining outstanding trumps in two leads. He now had no better play than to take the club finesse. This lost to the king and Mrs. Keen returned her last spade. Holding the ace-10 over Mr. Meek's jack, Mr. Masters automatically got two tricks in the suit to put the contract down one.

FAIRLY SPOKEN

By Margaret Latrobe

They doubtless have their reasons, but I have never understood why child psychologists persist in calling younger children "siblings"—! Maybe because they are frequently "sibulant," but not likely.

Siblings or not, when the night is beginning to lower, comes a pause in the day's occupations that is known as children's hour for revival of energy which has that old blood sugar theory beat to nuthin'.

It shouldn't happen. It's against all natural laws, "house rules and gravity. But happen it does. Siblings, having had nothing to eat since lunch—except juice, milk, and six delicious flavors of soft variety, cookies, crackers, toast, four rounds of bubble gum and Heaven knows what delicacies from hidden caches known but to themselves and the mice—should be doc-eyed, relaxed babes basking for a kiss and Longfellow's poetry. They should be pooped, these siblings, but they ain't.

Mamma needn't look at the time for the tell-tale hour. She is not deaf. More resonant than any Grandfather's clock with Swiss works chiming the children's hour is the toll which greets—nay, assaults—her ear. Crash, bongo, bingo, wah-ah-ah!

The siblings have hit pay dirt, the uranium vein, the Mother Lode of renewed vitality. It doesn't seep into their blood stream, ladylike and gradual. It is instantaneous, a mysterious matter of osmosis or mirrors of space travel or some darn thing only kids understand these days.

"What's fer dinner didja see my dump truck anyplace she hit me first, Mom, honest she did I don't care if she IS a girl didn't Dad say a man has to defend hisself what's fer dinner and can we stay up for Disneyland?"

The sibling-adjusted parent breathes deep, flexes the backbone, counts to 45 by fifteens, prays silently for strength and guidance—and, if wise, munches a couple of candy bars and orange juice concentrate. We elders have to run up blood sugar the hard way.

Listen, my children, and you shall hear—plenty. One, fish. Two, no. Three, not again! Four, he did? Five, I said fish. And six, we'll see.

Listen, Longfellow, you should have heard of daylight saving. It might have changed your tune not to mention the midnight ride of Paul Revere. He had a houseful of siblings, didn't he?

VANISHES

VLADIMIR MIKHEEV, a Soviet embassy attaché in Washington is reported to have vanished following a disclosure by the House un-American activities committee that he was involved in an espionage case. Mikheev contacted Robert Davis, historian of the U. S. Armed Forces Institute of Pathology, and tried unsuccessfully to snare him in a "spy web."

QUESTION:

Has your present insurance carrier paid you a claim in the last 24 months?

can you say NO

Our NEW Claim Free MERIT PLAN rewards motorists who can say NO

HERE'S HOW THE PLAN WORKS

If you own a vehicle insured at private passenger car rates, and have completed 24 months of driving without an accident involving Bodily Injury, Property Damage or Collision payment by the insurer, you are immediately eligible for a substantial reduction in your insurance cost, under our Merit Rating Plan. This reduction applies even though your car was insured previously with another company.

AND YOU CAN MAKE ADDITIONAL SAVINGS

When two or more vehicles, rated as private passenger cars, are owned by an individual, or by a husband and wife living in the same household, the second and all subsequent insured cars qualify for a very liberal reduction from the regular insurance rates. (Sorry . . . regular rates apply where there is a male driver under age 25.)

AND SAVE STILL MORE

If your private passenger vehicle is equipped with two approved safety belts in the front seat—and medical payments coverage is provided in your insurance—the premium is reduced still more for each insured car each six months the policy is in force.

Let one of our Agents show you how to keep more of those Insurance Dollars in your own pocket!

We want to insure selected risks—careful, conscientious motorists who keep out of trouble. That's why our Merit Rating Plan rewards the good driver. If you have been careful in the past, it stands to reason you will be careful in the future. So we can afford to insure your vehicle at a substantially lower rate. That's the whole idea—and it is a plan that makes it possible for you to keep a lot more of those insurance dollars right in your own pocket. You can even pay your premium every six months without any extra cost. Ask our representative to tell you the complete story. No obligations on your part, of course.

REBELS ON MARCH

ALGIERS, May 14.—(UP)—A 3,000-man rebel force was reported marching today on the heavily-garrisoned town of Tlemcen, 60 miles southwest of Oran. A major battle was expected near the town.

France rushed more troop convoys to the nervous town which unconfirmed reports said the rebels hoped to conquer and turn it into their capital. It has long been a Moslem religious center.

CONSERVATIVES WIN

VIENNA, Austria, May 14.—(UP)—Austrian Chancellor Julius Raab's Conservative Catholic Peoples Party emerged today as a clear winner of Sunday's fourth postwar Austrian election for the 165 member parliament.

Raab's victory, which lacked only one seat of an absolute majority more than 50 per cent in parliament, was seen as a victory over Socialist plans for further nationalization of industry turned back by the Soviets when occupation ended.
